(May 25, 2018 – Toronto, ON) – Alberta-based pop duo Jenesia (formerly Soap Box Duo), have just released the video for “Mexico”, the infectious lead single off of their forthcoming debut LP titled Catch-22, due out independently on June 22, 2018. “Mexico”, which had its worldwide premiere via The Strombo Show on CBC Music, is now available to purchase via iTunes and stream on all digital platforms HERE.

With a killer groove, catchy chorus and dynamic vocals from lead vocalist Jenesa Dawn, “Mexico” is an instant feel-good track that embodies the essence of summer. Inspired by an impromptu trip to Mexico, the song lyrically explores the passion between a married couple. “A lot of current upbeat songs we know are more about singles hooking up,” remarks Jenesa. “There are tons of jokes in North American comedy about how marriage is a kill-joy. Some comics joke that all sex dies after people tie the knot. We wanted to show that passion absolutely exists for us and sometimes getting away from everything can make it even better!!”

Directed by Justin Brunelle of Moving Artistry Productions and filmed in Cabo San Lucas, the video for “Mexico” features breathtaking drone imagery, gorgeous landscapes and captivating choreography that is sure to inspire you to want to get up and dance. Recorded at Resonate Music in Edmonton with producer Justin “Dunna” McDonough, Jenesia’s debut album features 6 emotion-evoking, well-crafted, infectious new tracks. Known for their heart-on-their-sleeve, deeply personal storytelling and devotion to inspiring others towards justice, on Catch-22, the couple explores themes of addiction (“Catch-22”), financial distress (“Water To Wine”), politics and fighting the good fight (“Anthem”) and the beauty of being in love (“Easy”).

Hailing from Spruce Grove, AB, Jenesia is comprised of husband and wife duo Jenesa Dawn and Alexander David. Previously known as Soap Box Duo, Jenesia has played over 300 shows across Western Canada. They were finalists at both the Los Angeles “Top Vocalist” Competition and the New York John Lennon Songwriting contest and have been nominated for “New Artist of the Year” at the GMA’s 38th Covenant Awards and an “Adult Alternative Recording of the Year” for the 2016 Edmonton Music Awards.

Winners of the My United Way Voice (helping to fight poverty through the power of music), Jenesia’s passion goes far beyond making hit songs; the duo strives to encourage and inspire others towards justice. “Our goal is to use our music as a platform to talk about issues of justice in our society both locally and around the world”, states Jenesa in their 2017 short documentary Soap Box For Haiti. “Our main focus as a couple is the prevention of childhood sexual abuse. At the same time, we realized that may not be the passion of many of our listeners, so what we want to do is be able to showcase other organizations/other injustices abroad that people can get excited about effecting change.”

In the fall of 2017, the duo travelled to Haiti to film Soap Box For Haiti. The short documentary focuses on the beauty of the country and its people, while showcasing a few organizations (Floriana Wedding Project, Reveil Matinale Orphanage Foundation, Haiti Children’s Home) that are working there. The documentary which received international recognition, can be viewed HERE.
